PREMIUM MARINE GELCOATS

At INEOS Composites, our experience and history of success within the marine industry is well-documented. But we did not do this alone. Our commitment to collaborating with the industry's leading boat builders to deliver high performance products is the foundation of our success, including our entire Maxguard™ product offering.

Premium Maxguard™ gelcoats provide superior performance in critical use environments with the added value of high weatherability and outstanding cosmetics. As a result, your boats will maintain their luster and finish for years to come, providing a great value for your consumers. INEOS has a history of being the market leader in providing products with reliable, durable, real world performance.

Maxguard™ NCP Colors premium marine gelcoats deliver exceptional performance that far exceeds that of traditional gelcoats in the challenging marine environment. NCP's weatherability, blush and blister resistance, and flexibility provide the balance of properties needed by the world's premier boat builders. As an added benefit, NCP gelcoats are very easy to apply and repair.
