Data Protection Information for Business Partners of INEOS Composites (BR)

Our processing of personal data and rights of data subjects – Information according to Article 9 of the Brazilian General Data Protection Law ("LGPD")

In this Data Protection Information, we inform about the processing of personal data in connection with our business relationships and about data subject's rights according to applicable data protection law.

1. Who is responsible for the processing of personal data?

The controller responsible for the processing of personal data is Ineos Compósitos do Brasil S.A.

Rua Arthur César, 200 | Ronda | Araçariguama, SP, Brazil, 18147-000

Our data protection officer may be contacted via the aforementioned means or via DataProtection.Brazil@ineos.com

2. Which data from which sources do we process?

The initiation and the performance of our business relationships requires the processing of data of interested parties and contract partners (collectively "business partners"). If this data concerns a natural person (e.g. if you are a single trader and enter into a business relationship with us), it is considered as personal data. Regardless of the legal form of our business partner, we process data concerning the natural persons involved in the business relationship.

Relevant personal data are, in particular:

- the basic data on our business partners, the (further) natural persons involved in the business relationship (such as legal representatives, authorized persons or contact persons at our business partners) and on the intended or existing business relationship ("master data");
- the information that arises in the course of the business relationship and exceeds a mere change of master data ("performance data"), such as information about services rendered on the basis of concluded contracts or further information that a business partner provides.

In principle, we collect master data and performance data directly from our business partners. In some cases, we may also store information on master and performance data from third parties to the extent permitted by law. This includes, for example, data that we receive from affiliated companies within INEOS Group if business relationships also exist with such affiliated companies or data on the economic situation of our business partners if this is necessary to assess economic risks - such as payment defaults when concluding contracts.

3. For which purposes and on which legal basis do we process personal data?

We process personal data in compliance with applicable statutory provisions (in particular the general data protection law provisions - LGPD) for the following purposes and on the following legal basis:

- We process personal data for the performance of the contractual relationships with our business partners or for pre-
1. General contract details

Regardless of the legal form of our business partners, we process personal data concerning one or more natural persons involved in the business relationship for the purpose of our justified interest and our business partner’s justified interest in the initiation or performance of the business relationship on the basis of Article 7º, IX, LGPD.

- We may process personal data also for compliance with legal obligations to which we are subject; this processing is based on Article 7º, II, LGPD. Legal obligations may in particular include the mandatory disclosure of personal data to (tax) authorities.
- To extent necessary, we process personal data (in addition to the processing for the purposes of the business relationship or to comply with legal obligations) for the purposes of our justified interests or the justified interests of a third party on the basis of Article 7º, IX, LGPD. Justified interest may include:
  - group-wide processes for internal administration of business partner data within INEOS Group;
  - management and further development of our business operations including risk management.
- In addition, we may process personal data for the purpose of the identification of economic risks - such as payment defaults - in connection with our business relationships on the basis of Article 7º, X, LGPD or for the purpose of establishment of or defence against legal claims and prevention and investigation of criminal offences, on the basis of Article 7º, VI, LGPD.
- If we provide to a natural person the option to declare a consent in the processing of personal data, we process the personal data covered by the consent for the purposes specified in such consent on the basis of Article 7º, I, LGPD.

Please note that
- the declaration of consent is voluntarily,
- that failure to declare consent or the withdrawal of a consent may, nevertheless, have consequences, and we will inform about such consequences before you are given the option to declare your consent
- consent may be withdrawn at any time with effect for the future, e.g. by providing notice to us via mail or email using the contact information specified in this data protection information.

4. Is there an obligation to provide personal data?

The provision of the personal data specified in section 2 above is necessary for entering into and maintaining a business relationship with us, unless specified otherwise before or at collection of the data. Without the provision of these data, we are not able to enter into and maintain a business relationship.

If we collect additional data, we will indicate if the provision of such information is based on a legal or contractual obligation or necessary for the performance of an agreement. We usually indicate which information may be provided voluntarily and is neither based on a legal or contractual obligation nor necessary for the purposes of an agreement.

5. Who has access to personal data?

Personal data are generally processed within our company. Depending on the categories of personal data, only dedicated departments / organizational units are granted access to your personal data to the extent necessary for compliance with contractual and statutory obligations.
If and to the extent permitted by law, we may transfer your personal data to recipients outside of our company. Such external recipients may include:

- affiliated companies within INEOS Group, to which we may transfer personal data for internal administration of business partner data;
- service providers that – on the basis of separate agreements with us – provide certain services (e.g. in the areas of IT services, logistics, print services, collection, consulting or sales/marketing) possibly including the processing of personal data, as well as approved sub-contractors of our service providers;
- private or public bodies, to the extent we are obliged to transfer your personal data on the basis of a legal obligation to which we are subject;

Even without a justified interest, we may continue to store the data if there is a legal obligation (e.g. to comply with statutory retention obligations). We delete personal data even without an action by the data subject as soon as further retention is no longer necessary for the purposes for which the data were collected or otherwise processed or if further retention is not permitted by law otherwise. In general, we store basic data and the additional data collected in the course of the business relationship at least until the end of the respective business relationship. The data are deleted in any case if the purposes for the collection or processing were achieved. This point in time may be after the end of the business relationship with us. If personal data need to be stored to comply with a legal obligation, such data is retained until the end of the respective retention period. If personal data are only processed to comply with a statutory retention obligation, the access to such data is usually restricted so that the data are only accessible if needed for the purpose of the retention obligation.</td>

- exercise the right to data portability, Article 18, V, LGPD;

The aforementioned rights may be asserted against us, e.g. by providing notice to us via the contact details specified in this data protection information, Article 18, §3º, LGPD.

In addition, the data subject is entitled to lodge a complaint regarding the handling of personal data with the National Data Protection Authority (ANPD), Article 18, §1º, LGPD.

Right of objection on a case-by-case basis

Furthermore, based on Article 18, §2º, LGPD a data subject has the right to object at any time to the processing of personal data processed for purpose of legitimate interests pursuant to Article 7º, IX, LGPD for reasons arising from his or her particular situation;

If a data subject files an objection, we will no longer process the corresponding personal data unless we demonstrate compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override the interests, rights and freedoms of the data subject or for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.
